Preparing for your Theory Test

The theory test is made up of 2 parts, the multiple choice part and hazard perception part. To properly prepare for the multiple-choice part you should study the source material. This is made up of "The Highway Code", "The Essential Skills" series of books and "Know Your Traffic Signs". "The Official Theory Test" series of books contain all the official questions and answers. "The Official Theory Test" CD ROM allows you to practice mock tests. The hazard perception part of the test looks at skills such as scanning, planning ahead and having good anticipation. We recommend you discuss these skills with your instructor/trainer and work through the "RoadSense" training material which is designed to help you prepare for this part of the theory test. These products are available at a range of bookshops, from DSA's Merchandising Team on 0870 241 4523 or by visiting the DSA Website on www.dsa.gov.uk or www.direct.gov.uk/motoring, mock multiple choice tests are also available on this Website. Other learning materials are available from leading retailers

UK Residency Requirements

You cannot take a test or obtain a full licence unless you are normally resident in this country. Normal residence means the place where you reside because of personal or occupational ties. However, if you have moved to the UK having been permanently resident in another state of the EC/EEA (European Economic Area), you must have been normally resident in the UK for 185 days in the last 12 months prior to your application for a driving test or a full driving licence.

Data Protection and the use of your Personal Data

The Driving Standards Agency uses the personal data you provide for the purpose of booking and providing a Theory Test. The test details are also used to assist with the provision of a practical driving test and are analysed to assess the effectiveness of traffic patterns, safety initiatives and other transportation issues to improve both customer service and road safety. Any processing undertaken by our data processors in the United States is carried out in accordance with the U.S. Department of Commerce "Safe Harbor" framework. Personal data is not disclosed to or shared with any third parties other than in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. For further information, please see our website www.dsa.gov.uk or www.direct.gov.uk/motoring
